

The 10th

APEC Forum

on Human Resources Development

Increasingly Vital Role of Enterprises on HRD

In this era of technological innovations and globalization, it requires the positive contribution of enterprises including the multi-national companies to the HRD programmes to enhance the life-long employability through developing individual competencies.

Based on the above, the upcoming forum will focus on “Increasingly Vital Role of Enterprises on HRD” and discuss the effective measures and administrative management to be implemented or modified. We will welcome you to the APEC Forum on HRD 2006 where the experts and governmental officials from Asia Pacific region will discuss the social role of enterprises in terms of human resources development.
