The 11th APEC Forum on Human Resources Development

"Sustainable Career Development throughout Working Life"

The upcoming forum will focus on "Sustainable Career Development throughout Working Life" and exchange information on the current status of career development in each individual economy and any HRD measures that have been taken for that purpose.

It is increasingly important to deploy career development that enables each and every individual worker to receive education and training in actual business so as to improve their vocational capabilities. We will welcome your participation and look forward to your presence at the forum.
