10. TRAVEL INFORMATION

10.1 Visas and Customs Information.

Generally, a citizen of a foreign country who wishes to enter the United States must first obtain a visa. Visitor visas are nonimmigrant visas for persons who want to enter the United States temporarily for business (visa category B-1), tourism, pleasure or visiting (visa category B-2), or a combination of both purposes (B-1/B-2).

The United States does not have a unique visa category for APEC delegates and advises that the normal procedures for requesting visas from U.S. embassies or consulates abroad for diplomats, international organization officials, employees of a foreign government, or business travelers should be followed. Meeting participants are advised to apply for the appropriate type of visa as early as possible. While letters of invitation to APEC meetings are not required in order to receive a U.S. visa, invited guests who are not members of an official APEC delegation may find it advantageous to present details of their APEC meeting participation when applying.

Each traveler is responsible for possessing a valid passport and appropriate visa, or for business travelers from economies participating in the Visa Waiver Program, an Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) clearance, to travel to the United States. Passports must be valid for at least 6 months beyond the intended date of departure from the United States and must have sufficient pages for visa stamps. Please contact your local U.S. embassy or consulate or refer to <http://travel.state.gov/> for more information regarding U.S. visas.

APEC travelers are advised that the APEC Business Travel Card (ABTC) cannot be used in place of a visa for entry into the United States.

Overseas travelers are processed by U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) officials upon arrival at a United States Port of Entry. All travelers must complete prior to their entry into the international arrivals hall the CBP forms that airlines provide prior to landing. Please refer to <http://www.cbp.gov/travel/> for more information regarding CBP requirements.

If you do need an invitation to apply a U.S.A visa, please send the personal information below to Martin Brown-Santirso at martin.brown-santirso@eeca.govt.nz as soon as possible.

There are branches of all the commercial banks throughout the city. All banks provide electronic banking facilities including ATMs outside almost all branches and in other positions where access to cash is regularly required by large numbers of people such as within shopping malls and pubs. All major credit cards (UnionPay, Visa, Mastercard, American Express) are accepted at most hotels, restaurants and shops.

10.5 Currency

The United States dollar (sign: $; code: USD; also abbreviated US$), is referred to as the U.S. dollar, or Federal Reserve Note. It is the official currency of the United States and its overseas territories.

The U.S. dollar is the fiat currency most used in international transactions and is one of the world's most dominant reserve currencies. Several countries use it as their official currency, and in many others it is the de facto currency. The unit of USD is Dollar, Dime, and Cent. The conversion among the three is: 1 Dollar = 10 Dime = 100 Cent.

One can change money upon arrival at the Honolulu International Airports. Also most hotels offer foreign exchange services and exchange cash and travelers cheques.

There is no limit on the amount of money that can be taken out of or brought into the United States. However, if a person or persons traveling together and filing a joint declaration (CBP Form 6059-B) have $10,000 or more in currency or negotiable monetary instruments, they must fill out a "Report of International Transportation of Currency and Monetary Instruments" FinCEN 105 (former CF 4790). Banking Hours: Mondays to Fridays, 9 am to 3 pm.

10.6 Tipping

While tipping is NOT mandatory in most of the United States, it is expected in many circumstances for service for approximately 15-20% of the total bill before tax being appropriate – a bit more or less depending on the quality of service, especially at almost all sit-down restaurants which offer table service. Tips of $1-2 per bag are customarily given to baggage handlers at airports and hotel bellhops who take luggage to a guest room. It is also customary to tip hotel room cleaning staff $1 to $2 per day. Taxicab drivers are customarily tipped 10-15% of the fare.

10.7 VAT (Value-Added Tax)

The United States of America is a federal republic with autonomous state and local governments. Sales taxes are imposed by most states and some localities on the price at retail sale of many goods and some services. The Hawaii sales tax rate is 4%, and the maximum HI sales tax after local surtaxes is 4.712%. Sales tax rates vary widely among jurisdictions,, and may vary within a jurisdiction based on the particular goods or services taxed. Sales tax is collected by the seller at the time of sale, or remitted as use tax by buyers of taxable items who did not pay sales tax.

10.8 Getting Around

Honolulu is the capital and largest city of the state of Hawaii. Situated on the island of Oahu, It is the county seat of the City and County of Honolulu. It is a major worldwide-known tourist destination; the main gateway to Hawaii and a major gateway into the United States of America. It is also a major hub for international business, military defense, as well as famously being host to a diverse variety of east-west and Pacific culture, cuisine, and traditions.

As the center of government, transportation, and commerce for the state, Honolulu is home to a population of nearly one million people in the metro area (80% of the state's population) and Hawaii's best known tourist destination, Waikiki Beach -- the white sand beach shoreline fronting the neighborhood behind the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and the Moana Surfrider.

Major sights and attractions include:

Waikiki has a variety of beaches include: Duke Kahanamoku Beach, Waikiki Beach, Kuhio Beach, Queens Surf Beach, etc. Waikiki also has a variety of attractions to see including the Waikiki Aquarium, the U.S. Army Museum, and the Honolulu Zoo across the street from the 100-acre Kapiolani Park. Not far from Waikiki you can go on an Atlantis Submarine ride, take a tour of stunning Shangri La or enjoy the ocean views from the coastal Leahi (Diamond Head) Lookouts.

Beyond the borders of Waikiki. You'll discover a wealth of interesting attractions, including the Ala Moana Shopping Center right cross the border, the Lolani Palace in down town, the USS Arizona Memorial in Pearl Harbor, the legendary beaches of the North Shore, etc.

10.9 Seasonal Information

Honolulu experiences a tropical semi-arid climate, with a mostly dry summer season due to a rain shadow effect. Temperatures vary little throughout the months, with average high temperatures of 80–90 °F (27–32 °C) and average lows of 65–75 °F (18–24 °C) throughout the year.

The only noticeable variation in seasons is in terms of rainfall. Honolulu is on the sunny, leeward side of the island, and where you are in the city will affect the chances for rain - areas like Waikiki, downtown, and the western side of the city will usually be sunny, while the hills or eastern side of the city may get some passing clouds and very brief rainfall. On average, Honolulu gets less than half an inch of rain in the summer months to almost three inches in the winter months.

Although the city is situated in the upper tropics, hurricanes are quite rare. The last recorded hurricane that hit the area was Category 4 Hurricane Iniki in 1992.
