Foreword

In February 2001, the APEC Sub-Committee on Customs Procedures (SCCP) endorsed a set of measures to foster members' cooperation and communication with the business sector. In August 2001, members further agreed to elevate the measures to a Collective Action Plan (CAP) – "Customs-Business Partnership".

The CAP seeks to promote different Customs-business cooperative programmes and encourages members to enter into cooperative relations with the business sector through the signing of cooperative instruments and the establishment of liaison channels.

Five surveys were conducted in December 2001, June 2003, November 2003, June 2004 and July 2006. Four of them aimed to understand members' implementation status of the partnership programmes and the other one aimed to seek contributions from members on their successful programmes as showcases for reference by other members.

This handbook, containing information on 74 partnership programmes and 16 successful showcases, is compiled by Hong Kong, China for reference by all members. It also serves as a useful guide for those who are planning to expand their existing partnership programmes or implement new partnership programmes.

Customs and Excise Department Hong Kong, China September 2006

Introduction

1. The CAP seeks to enhance the cooperation and communication between Customs and the business sector. Hong Kong, China; Mexico and Chinese Taipei are the CAP coordinators.

Work Plan of the CAP

2. Its work plan, commencing at end-2001 for a span of three years, consists of the following five action items:

- to conduct surveys on members' current Customs-business partnership programmes;
- (b) to identify best practices;
- (c) to operate a voluntary mentor system;
- (d) to encourage members to sign cooperative instruments; and
- (e) to encourage members to establish liaison channels.

Purposes and deliverables of the survey

3. Five surveys were conducted separately in December 2001, June 2003, November 2003, June 2004 and July 2006 with the aims to:

- (a) understand the current implementation status of members' partnership programmes;
- (b) explore the objectives, obligations and merits of various models implemented by members;
- (c) identify mentors who are willing to provide technical assistance;
- (d) identify the needs of members for technical assistance in establishing Customs-Business Partnership programmes; and
- (e) provide showcases to members for reference.

- 4. Tangible deliverables are:
  - (a) a compendium of Customs-Business Partnership Programmes;
  - (b) establishment of a voluntary mentor system for provision of technical assistance to members; and
  - (c) delivery of technical assistance to requesting members.

Survey results and analysis

The 1st Survey

5. In December 2001, a questionnaire was sent out to all members. A sample questionnaire is at Annex I for information. Out of the 21 members, the following 19 members provided feedback:

| Australia         | Japan            | Philippines    |
|-------------------|------------------|----------------|
| Brunei Darussalam | Korea            | Singapore      |
| Canada            | Malaysia         | Chinese Taipei |
| Chile             | Mexico           | Thailand       |
| China             | New Zealand      | United States  |
| Hong Kong, China  | Papua New Guinea |                |
| Indonesia         | Peru             |                |

6. 17 out of the 19 respondents indicated that their administrations had already implemented some kinds of partnership programmes. The remaining two respondents were planning to implement such programmes. Moreover, Brunei Darussalam, Papua New Guinea and Peru had expressed interest to receive technical assistance.

7. Apparently, some members were moving faster than others in fostering cooperative relations with their business partners. Two members even reported to have five partnership programmes in place.

8. The earliest partnership programmes - Carrier Initiative Programme and Customs-Private Sector Consultative Panel - were set up by the United States and Malaysia respectively in 1988. Australia launched the Frontline Programme in 1990 and the Customs National Consultative Committee in 1991. From 1992 onwards, other members had also started to implement their partnership programmes. As at July 2002, 40 partnership programmes were implemented by members.

9. Major participants of these programmes are transportation industry, shipping industry and trade associations. The most popular format adopted is the signing of memorandum of understanding (MOU), followed by the drawing up of agreement/arrangement and setting up of Customer Liaison Group. Some members disseminated information of their programmes on printed materials, while others through their websites, journals and newsletters.

10. The table below summarizes the number of partnership programmes implemented by members at end-2001:

| No. of partnership programme implemented | No. of member |
|--|---------------|
| 0  | 2             |
| 1  | 5             |
| 2  | 5             |
| 3  | 5             |
| 4  | 0             |
| 5  | 2             |

The 2nd Survey

11. In June 2003, another survey was conducted to understand members' status on the enhancement of their partnership programmes since the first survey in 2001. A sample questionnaire is at Annex II for information. The following 17 members responded to the survey:

| Australia         | Japan            | Peru           |
|-------------------|------------------|----------------|
| Brunei Darussalam | Korea            | Singapore      |
| Canada            | Malaysia         | Chinese Taipei |
| Chile             | Mexico           | Thailand       |
| Hong Kong, China  | New Zealand      | United States  |
| Indonesia         | Papua New Guinea |                |

12. In the survey, it was found that Brunei Darussalam and Peru had implemented their partnership programmes after the first survey, and many members had expanded their partnership programmes, in terms of both the number and the scope. Moreover, Brunei Darussalam, Papua New Guinea and Chinese Taipei expressed interest in receiving technical assistance under the voluntary mentor system.

13. In response to Papua New Guinea's request, Australia had provided technical assistance to Papua New Guinea for setting up a programme similar to Australia's Frontline programme. Papua New Guinea then started developing its partnership programme by signing MOUs with the Air Freight Forwarders Association and the Civil Aviation Authority.

14. On Chinese Taipei's request, Hong Kong, China had offered technical assistance to Chinese Taipei by providing information in relation to signing of MOU with sea carriers. Brunei Darussalam's request is pending clarification.

15. A summary of the survey result is as follows:

The 3rd Survey

16. To provide members with detailed information on successful partnership programmes as reference, another survey was conducted in November 2003 to seek contributions from members.

17. In February 2004, a handbook, containing 11 successful cases of Customs-Business Partnership programmes implemented by Australia; Canada; Hong Kong, China; Japan and Thailand, was compiled by Hong Kong, China and was distributed to members during the 1st 2004 APEC SCCP Meeting in Chile.

18. The handbook serves as a handy and helpful reference to members for launching similar partnership programmes. Members who are interested in individual cases may directly approach the members concerned.

The 4th Survey

19. The fourth survey was conducted in June 2004 to review the number and status of partnership programmes implemented by members during the past three years.

20. The survey revealed that eight members, namely China; Hong Kong, China; Indonesia; Japan; New Zealand; Philippines; Chinese Taipei and Thailand, had implemented new partnership programmes, and six members, namely Australia; Canada; Hong Kong, China; Mexico; New Zealand and Chinese Taipei, had expanded the scope of their existing programmes. It also showed that members had employed other means to establish Customs-business relationship, such as setting up of Joint Working Committee and Customs Alliance Club, and that the scope of the participating industries/trades had expanded to include banking industry and stevedore services.

| Hong Kong, China | 5         | 3         | 6           | 11        |

21. Result of the survey is summarized in the table below:

| Indonesia        | 3  | -  | 3  | 6  |
|------------------|----|----|----|----|
| Japan            | 2  | -  | 4  | 5  |

| United States    | 3  | -  | -  | 3  |
| Total:           | 40 | 11 | 19 | 57 |

The 5th Survey

22. Another survey was conducted in July 2006 to take stock of the new Customs-Business Partnership programmes of members.

23. The survey revealed that ten members had implemented a total of 17 new partnership programmes on top of the 57 recorded in 2004, and three members had expanded the scope of their existing programmes. A summary of the new partnership programmes implemented is as follows:

| New Partnership programme implemented by each member | No. of member |
|--|---------------|
| 5  | 1             |
| 3  | 1             |
| 2  | 1             |
| 1  | 7             |

24. Members have given tremendous efforts in enhancing and strengthening the cooperation and communication with the business sector. The scope of the participating industries/traders had expanded to include footwear and jewellery industries.

Voluntary Mentor System

22. Under the third action item of the work plan, a voluntary mentor system has been set up since 2002. Seven members, namely Australia; Canada; Hong Kong, China; New Zealand; Philippines; Singapore and Chinese Taipei have volunteered to offer technical assistance to other members in developing similar business partnership programmes in the following areas:

| Mentor           | Partnership Programme                         |  |  |

Conclusion

23. Customs-Business Partnership has become increasingly important. Good partnership improves Customs control and trade facilitation which are essential to economic growth.

24. It is encouraging to see that individual members have given tremendous efforts over the past years in enhancing the cooperation and communication between Customs and the business sector. A number of exemplary programmes have been developed. Members' awareness and eagerness in adopting partnership programmes to enhance Customs efficiency have reached a new height.

25. Though the work plan of the CAP ended in August 2004, it is believed that members will continue to develop their partnership programmes. Hong Kong, China will continue to serve as a contact point in providing information or assistance, where necessary, on all matters relating to this subject.

| Name of programme:                  | Accredited Client Program   |  |  |  |
| Year of establishment:              | Concept initiated in 1996; original policy,legislative amendments and businessdocuments developed from 1998 to 2001,revised model developed 2004- 2006;legislative provisions partially enacted in2001, completed legislative changes in 2006;Program will be implemented in the firstguarter of 2007.  |  |  |  |
| Business promoted by the programme: | <ul> <li>The Accredited Client Program has been developed in response to industry feedback that Customs needs to be prepared to deal with the trading community in different ways. Traditionally, the Customs' approach has been 'one size fits all'.</li> <li>The Accredited Client Program will allow certain traders streamlined reporting options, increased cargo facilitation, an alternative cost recovery model for importers (no cost recovery for exporters) and includes the benefit of a dedicated Customs client manager.</li> <li>Accredited Clients will not be exempt from community protection activities</li> </ul> |  |  |  |
| Signing authority:                  | conducted by Customs. For Customs:  |  |  |  |

Reference: the term "hozei" means the circumstances where the customs duty and tax are not levied on goods. Areas where goods can be treated in this manner, "hozei", are called "hozei" areas. Imported goods are under the Customs control if they are placed in the "hozei" area; in such cases an importer does not have to submit any bond to the customs.

Total number of showcases by Australia Customs Service: 1

Showcase programme: Frontline

Customs and Industry working together to protect Australia

Australian Customs plays a vital role in protecting Australia's borders from the entry of illegal and harmful goods and unauthorised people.

The Frontline program was established in 1990 as a result of the Ministerial Council on Drug Strategy calling on the Commonwealth, State and Territory Governments to allocate additional funding for law enforcement efforts to combat drug trafficking. The program is a cooperative link between Australian Customs and industry groups and companies involved in international trade and transport. The program draws on the knowledge and expertise of people in the industry to help prevent illicit drug trafficking and the entry of illegal and harmful goods into Australia.

How Frontline works

Frontline encourages Australia's trading community to assist in protecting Australia's borders by reporting any suspicious activities to a 24-hour Customs hotline.

Frontline members sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Australian Customs to formalise this cooperation. The MOU represents a voluntary commitment to cooperation by both parties to work against illegal activities. It is not a legally binding or enforceable contract.

Customs provides comprehensive training to Frontline members as well as information to assist to them identify activities or incidents that are of interest to Customs. A maintenance program is established so that members are contacted on a regular basis to reinforce awareness.

The benefits of membership

Frontline members are acknowledged by Australian Customs as partners in the fight against illegal activities. This establishes a good reputation for the industry, which ultimately benefits members business clients and the community.

Industry can use the opportunity of becoming a Frontline member to review their security arrangements and minimise the chance of their business becoming an unwitting participant in any illegal trade.

Frontline members enjoy rewards for their efforts in assisting Customs gather information and intelligence that may help prevent illegal activity. New members to Frontline are presented with a pen and certificate. Positive results are rewarded with Certificates of Appreciation, wall plaques and a number of other gifts dependent on the result.

Results

Australian Customs has achieved good success from the Frontline program. Currently, there is in excess of 700 Frontline members Australia wide.

In the period May to September 2003, there has been 23 positive results as a consequence of Frontline referrals. Seizures of prohibited imports included cocaine, cannabis, khat, weapons, ecstasy, copyright infringement and illegal entry vessels/non citizens.

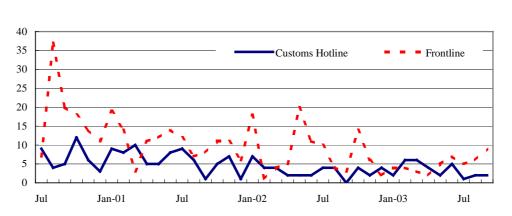

In July 2003, a suspect illegal entry vessel with 53 passengers was intercepted off the Western Australian coast as a result of a Frontline referral.

From 1 July 2002 – 30 June 2003, over 370 information reports were received from Frontline members, 20% of these reports resulted in a positive seizure.

Since 2000, there have been six cigarette/tobacco seizures as a result of Frontline referrals with total potential evaded duty in excess of 7.5 million

Australian dollars.

Canada

Total number of showcases by Canada Border Services Agency: 3

1st showcase programme: Partners in Protection

The Canada Border Services Agency's Partners in Protection (PIP) program was developed to work cooperatively with the private sector to enhance border security and to suppress contraband smuggling. To participate in the program, participants are asked to sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) that sets out ways in which the parties can work together to accomplish the goals of the program.

Modifications were made to the MOU in the fall of 2002 to place a greater emphasis on border security. Participants are now required to provide the CBSA a self-assessment of their current security measures by completing a Security Questionnaire. Responses to the questionnaire are used to work with our partners to identify areas where vulnerabilities may exist with regard to illegal cross border activity and to make recommendations where necessary. Our efforts to date have been focused on the receipt and processing of several hundred new applications since the modifications were made.

We believe the program is successful with the signing of over 1,762 partnership agreements and another 163 applications waiting to be processed. When the agreements are signed, CBSA Regional Intelligence Officers located throughout the country begin working with the partner organization to advance the goals of the program.

Several factors contribute to the success of the PIP program including the number of MOUs signed, the number of tips received regarding suspicious shipments, an improved working relationship with the partner to enhance border security and increase compliance and an improved intelligence capability available to the CBSA as a result of the partnership.

Information from PIP participants have resulted in enforcement actions such as seizures of alcohol, illicit drugs and other contraband as well as information contributing to ongoing investigations. The CBSA will continue to work with our partners under this program to share and exchange information that we believe is helping to keep Canada safe.

2nd showcase programme: Customs Self-Assessment

In 2001, the Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) introduced the Customs Self Assessment (CSA) program, a progressive trade option for clients who invest in compliance.

Based on the principles of risk management and partnership, the CSA program is of mutual benefit to the importing community and the CBSA. With CSA, clients have the opportunity to significantly reduce the costs of compliance while enhancing their ability to comply with customs requirements. The CBSA has the opportunity to better align its resources with trade of higher or unknown risk.

The CSA program has given approved importers the benefits of a streamlined accounting and payment process for all imported goods. The streamlined accounting and payment process ends the need for importers to maintain separate and costly customs processes, allowing them to use their own business systems to fully self assess and meet their customs obligations.

The CSA program has also given approved importers, approved carriers, and registered drivers the benefits of a streamlined clearance option for CSA eligible goods. The streamlined clearance process ends the need for transactional transmissions of data related to eligible goods. This allows for the clearance of goods based on the identification of the approved importer, approved carrier, and registered driver.

The success of the CSA program has been built upon through the Free and Secure Trade (FAST) program, a harmonized commercial process between the United States and Canada.

3rd showcase programme: Free and Secure Trade

The Free and Secure Trade (FAST) program is a joint Canada-U.S. initiative involving the Canada Border Services Agency, Citizenship and Immigration Canada, the United States Bureau of Customs and Border Protection (CBP). FAST supports moving pre-approved eligible goods across the border quickly and verifying trade compliance away from the border.

It is a harmonized commercial process offered to pre-approved importers, carriers, and registered drivers. Shipments for approved companies, transported by approved carriers using registered drivers, will be cleared into either country with greater speed and certainty, and at a reduced cost of compliance.

In Canada, FAST builds on the Customs Self-Assessment (CSA) program and its principles of pre-approval and self-assessment, as well as increased security measures under the Partners in Protection (PIP) program. FAST also includes aligning the requirements of Canada's PIP program and the U.S. Customs Trade Partnership Against Terrorism (C-TPAT) program. As part of these programs, companies will have to adopt and implement security procedures to be compatible with guidelines set by both customs agencies.

FAST is currently available at the following border crossings:

- Pacific Highway, British Columbia / Blaine, Washington
- Sarnia, Ontario / Port Huron, Michigan
- Windsor, Ontario / Detroit, Michigan
- Fort Erie, Ontario / Buffalo, New York
- Queenston, Ontario / Lewiston, New York

Showcase programme: Co-operation Agreement between the National Customs Direction and the Textile Institute of Chile A.G.

A co-operation agreement between the National Customs Service of Chile and the Textile Institute of Chile A.G. was signed on 22 June 2005. The Agreement includes:

Customs side:

The Strategic Objectives of the National Customs Service regarding the appropriate combination of trade facilitation and commercial agreements and the most adequate and timely use enforcement activities; the prevention of trade distorting behaviors in foreign trade operations; taking steps for the retention and managing of relevant and reliable information from internal and external sources.

The above with the aim of establishing differed enforcement strategies as per type of user and, in the case of textile industry, as per type of product or any other relevant indicator in compliance with the in-force customs rules.

Textile side:

Representing the interests of textiles and rag trade in the international agreements and treaties in the framework of market social economy; the optimized use of the advantages originated in the above mentioned treaties and agreements for the promotion of exports and the importation of raw materials; safeguarding Chilean textiles and rag trade from external unfair competition.

The above in order for the Customs Service to timely apply the legal and ruling measures in the matters of under and over-valuation of the importing prices, miss-declaration of entry and any other type of fiscal fraud.

Purpose of Agreement:

The entities involved have signed the Agreement in order to co-operate with the provision of information for the purposes of customs enforcement relating to aspects such as customs valuation, classification, origin, IPR and other related matters, and also in order to encourage the compliance of the import and export rules by members of the Institute.

For such purposes, both parties have agreed to establish a Co-operation Committee, of parity structure, whose task is the co-ordination and maintenances of communication and training instances between both entities and in order to secure the achievement of proposed aims.

1st showcase programme: Customer Liaison Group

Hong Kong Customs has established four Customer Liaison Groups with the industry of air freight, sea freight, dutiable commodities and cross boundary transportation for the purpose of providing better customer service and enhancing cooperation.

The four Customer Liaison Groups, namely Air Cargo Customer Liaison Group, Sea Cargo Customer Liaison Group, Dutiable Commodities Customer Liaison Group and Cross-boundary Transport Industry Customer Liaison Group, were established in 1992, 1994, 1994 and 1999 respectively.

Advantages and Benefits

The setting up of the Customer Liaison Groups not only facilitates trade, but also enhances the mutual understanding and cooperation between Hong Kong Customs and the industries. Each Group would hold four meetings a year for exchange of views on customs procedures and both parties' recent development and for enhancement of both parties' mutual understanding on their daily work.

After years of operations, Hong Kong Customs witnesses that the Customer Liaison Groups has played an important role on partnership cooperation and trade facilitation, as they have greatly enhanced and strengthened the communication and cooperation between Hong Kong Customs and the industries.

2nd showcase programme: Sponsored Reward Scheme

To encourage the public to report and provide information on activities on illicit cigarette, illicit fuel, counterfeit pharmaceutical products and copyright piracy, Hong Kong Customs has launched five sponsored reward schemes. Under the schemes, the business counterparts will contribute an amount as reward to persons who have provided information leading to seizure and successful prosecution or conviction of the culprit.

Anti-Cigarette Smuggling Reward Scheme

In January 1994, an agreement was signed between Hong Kong Customs and the Tobacco Institute of Hong Kong Limited (TIHK) for suppressing the importation and local distribution of illicit cigarettes. The TIHK was disbanded in the late 2004. Another two tobacco companies, British-American Tobacco and Japan Tobacco, continue to finance the scheme for combating the illicit cigarette activities.

Since 1994, HK$6.02 million has been contributed to finance the scheme. Up to July 2006, a total of 165 cases were effected, with 253 persons arrested and 483.39 million contraband cigarettes seized.

The Anti-Cigarette Smuggling Reward Scheme not only proves to be very effective in assisting Hong Kong Customs to combat cigarette smuggling, but also heightens public awareness on illicit cigarettes offences.

Oil Industry Reward Scheme

The Oil Industry Reward Scheme, financed by four oil companies, namely Chevron (renamed from Caltex), China Resources Petroleum Corporation, ExxonMobil and Shell, was implemented in April 1996 to encourage the public to provide information on illicit fuel activities. Since 2005, two additional oil companies, namely Sinopec and China Oil, have been participating in the Reward Scheme.

Since the scheme's operation, the oil companies have paid reward of HK$1.56 million for information, leading to the effect of 89 cases, with 168 persons arrested and 2.78 million litres of illicit fuel seized.

The scheme is a very successful and effective vehicle in protecting government revenue as well as assisting Hong Kong Customs in combating illicit fuel activities.

Anti-Piracy Reward Scheme

The scheme aims at giving incentive rewards for informers on providing useful information in connection with copyright piracy cases. It is financed by the copyright industry and administered by the Hong Kong Customs. The Scheme was launched in December 1997 and which has been renewed on 26.1.2006 with effect from 26th January 2006 until 25th January 2007.

Up to July 2006, a total of HK$1.772 million has been paid as reward for 62 cases with 148 persons arrested. The scheme proves to be very useful and helpful in combating piracy and protecting intellectual property rights.

Reward Scheme to Combat Illegal Use of Software in Business

A reward scheme to combat the use of pirated software in business was commenced in June 2002. It is administered by Hong Kong Customs and financed by the Business Software Alliance (BSA) with HK$100,000 as initial deposit.

The aim of the scheme is to encourage the public to provide information against corporate piracy and to enhance public awareness on the illegal use of software in business. Under the scheme, reward money of HK$5,000 will be given to a member of the public who provides information to Hong Kong Customs on the use of pirated software in business leading to seizure of at least 5 computers installed with pirated software in a company.

Reward Scheme to Combat Counterfeit and Trade Mark Infringed Pharmaceutical Products

In November 2003, Hong Kong Customs and the Hong Kong Association of the Pharmaceutical Industry entered into an agreement to launch a reward scheme to combat counterfeit pharmaceutical products.

The scheme aims at enhancing public awareness on counterfeit and trade mark infringed pharmaceutical products, and encouraging the public to provide information on activities involving counterfeit pharmaceutical products that enables Hong Kong Customs to crack down the illicit activities more effectively.

Under the scheme, reward money will be payable to a person providing information in two stages:

Initial Payment: Information leading to the seizure of counterfeit or infringed trade mark pharmaceutical products under the list of the reward scheme and arrest of any person under the Trade Descriptions Ordinance, Chapter 362 in any one operation:

Maximum Reward of HK$25,000 for Initial Payment

Additional Payment: Where the information ultimately results in the criminal conviction of the arrested person/company under the Trade Descriptions Ordinance, Chapter 362:

Maximum Reward of HK$25,000 for Additional Payment

Reward Scheme to Combat Illegal Photocopying of Books

In order to attract informers to provide information leading to enforcement actions by the Hong Kong Customs against illegal photocopying of books, a new reward scheme to combat illegal photocopying activities was commenced on 13th October 2005 for a period of 12 months. The Scheme is financed by the Hong Kong Reprographic Rights Licensing Society (HKRRLS) and administered by Hong Kong Customs.

Under the Scheme, reward money shall be payable to a person providing information leading to arrest and seizure of certain quantity of photocopying machines and illegal photocopies of books of publishers participating in the Scheme.

3rd showcase programme: Memorandum of Understanding

In view of the continuous increase of international trade volumes, Hong Kong Customs faces much pressure on the maintenance and improvement of Customs controls on imports and exports. To effectively combat against the illicit trade and activities, it is important to maintain a better cooperation and communication between Hong Kong Customs and the business sector.

Hong Kong Customs has signed several Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) with different business partners in order to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of customs controls, and to facilitate cargo clearance. The exemplary ones are as follows.

MOU with Air Cargo Operator

In 1998, seven MOUs on interchange of electronic cargo information were signed between Hong Kong Customs and air cargo operators at the Hong Kong International Airport. Areas of cooperation include Customs clearance, paperless release, risk management, information exchange and information technology. Under these partnership programmes, Hong Kong Customs is able to receive cargo data from its business partners and send the customs clearance instructions to them electronically through a common system platform, and the air cargo operators can submit their cargo data electronically to Hong Kong Customs so as to speed up the clearance process. This kind of cooperative agreement significantly improves and enhances the mutual communication between Hong Kong Customs and the air cargo operators, and hence facilitates trade.

MOU with Express Cargo Industry

To enhance the efficiency of customs controls and facilitate express cargo clearance at the Hong Kong International Airport, Hong Kong Customs has signed four MOUs with express carriers/couriers in 2001.

The purposes of these MOUs are for anti-narcotics, anti-smuggling, facilitation of customs clearance, protection of revenue, protection of intellectual property rights, protection of endangered species, etc.

Under these partnership programmes, both Hong Kong Customs and the express carriers/couriers benefit immensely from each other. They can communicate and resolve operational matters at a very short period of time, maximize the use of information technology in data processing and information exchange, interchange the cargo data by means of computer system interface and provide cross training for better understanding the needs of each other.

'Watch Out' Programme

To promote and support efficiency in customs controls and trade facilitation, a 'Watch Out' programme was launched in 2002. A total of three cargo terminal operators and 13 cross-boundary transportation associations/companies joined the programme.

The main objectives of the programme are to facilitate cargo movement, and prevent and detect smuggling and other Customs offences. Areas of cooperation include customs clearance, intelligence and information exchange.

Under these cooperative agreements, Hong Kong Customs has the obligation to appoint designated staff for establishing effective communication and consultation channels, provide training and guidance to staff of business partners on Customs procedures, and cooperate and apply risk management in Customs procedures pertaining to cargo handling, delivery and clearance with a view to detecting and preventing smuggling and other Customs-related offences.

On the other hand, the business partners have also the responsibility to provide Hong Kong Customs with their contact details, notify Hong Kong Customs upon discovery of any suspicious cargo shipments, and exchange information and transfer cargo data prior to the arrival of cargo shipments to facilitate customs clearance.

In view of the sound and constructive partnership established between Hong Kong Customs and the business sector, there are improvements in the areas of referral of suspected offences, interdiction of contraband, law compliance by business sector and customs facilitation to trade.

Japan

Total number of showcases by Japan Customs and Tariff Bureau: 1

Showcase programme: Strengthened Cooperation with Related Industries on Information Reporting, etc

Since June 1992, in order to enhance effective law enforcement against smuggling, Customs and Tariff Bureau, and Regional Customs Administrations have completed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) and agreements concerning the prevention of drug smuggling with 37 organizations of trading and transport industries. Major MOUs are as follows:

- a. In June 1992, the Customs and Tariff Bureau of the Ministry of Finance concluded an MOU with the Japanese Shipowners' Association, the Scheduled Airlines Association of Japan, the Japan Air Cargo Forwarders Association, and the Japan Customs Brokers Association.
- b. In February 1995, the Customs and Tariff Bureau of the Ministry of Finance concluded an MOU with the Japan Foreign Steamship Association.
- c. In April 2000, the Customs and Tariff Bureau of the Ministry of Finance concluded an MOU with the Japan Fisheries Association.

Based on these MOUs, the Customs Administration has endeavored to strengthen cooperation. These include improving the information mechanism with the member corporations of each related industry associations to prevent drug trafficking. At the end of 2002, information has been provided in about 42,000 cases so far, which have contributed to interdictions of smuggling offenses.

Furthermore, each regional Customs is also making efforts to strengthen its positive cooperative relations with other transport and tourist industry organizations. Customs also cooperate with the Fishery Cooperatives Union to prevent the smuggling of goods via small boats to remote islands or closed ports.

New Zealand

Total number of showcases by New Zealand Customs Service: 2

1st showcase programme: Secure Exports Partnership Scheme (SEPS)

Background:

The New Zealand Government has identified a need to improve the security of the supply chain into and out of New Zealand, as the international environment grows more risky.

Effective security requires partnership, and we can only enhance supply chain security with active cooperation between Customs and the business sector. The program forms cooperative agreements between New Zealand Customs and the business sector involved in international trade and transport.

How SEPS Works:

SEPS is a key element in New Zealand's supply chain security strategy. Improving border security to meet emerging international requirements requires extra attention to exports.

Customs invites business to participate in SEPS. This participation is formalized by individual agreements between the SEPS Business Partner and the New Zealand Customs Service.

Every individual agreement is developed cooperatively to acknowledge the individual circumstances of the business, while maintaining security assurances.

SEPS is aligned with the US C-TPAT guidelines and is consistent with WCO guidelines for increased supply chain security to facilitate the flow of international trade.

The Business Partner:

Responsibilities: SEPS partners are responsible for securing their operations and for monitoring and maintaining an agreed level of security from the point of packing to delivery to a site for export loading.

Advantages: SEPS partners provide Customs with an agreed level of assurance over exports, which generally results in less Customs intervention with a partners' export activities.

Due to SEPS partners monitoring an agreed level of security the chances of their business becoming an unwitting participant in any illegal trade is greatly reduced.

New Zealand Customs:

Responsibilities: Customs is responsible for providing advice on security requirements, monitoring compliance with the agreed level of security and providing security assurance to trading partners.

Advantages: Through the SEPS partnership, Customs will have available more accurate information on the contents of export consignments to allow for improved risk assessment.

The SEPS partnership provides an avenue of communication for partners to report any suspicious activity to Customs.

2nd showcase programme: Frontline

Background:

FrontLine is a cooperative programme, which links Customs and business in a partnership to minimize the risks and maximize the benefits of international trade, in the interests of all New Zealanders.

Customs and the FrontLine partner undertake to examine ways to improve cooperation, to develop an understanding of each other's tasks and problems and to consider practical solutions.

How FrontLine Works:

FrontLine provides a framework for partnerships between Customs and individual businesses.

Customs invites business to participate in FrontLine and where appropriate, this participation is formalized by individual partnership agreements between the business partner and the New Zealand Customs Service.

Every individual agreement is developed cooperatively to acknowledge the individual circumstances of the business.

The Business Partner:

Responsibilities: The FrontLine partner undertakes to help protect the community by;

- Using their own commercial expertise to help identify unusual or suspicious activities;
- Taking precautions against becoming an unwitting tool in illegal activities by maintaining adequate security measures;
- Cooperate with Customs to provide accurate trade information; and
- To understand Customs role and requirements.

New Zealand Customs:

Responsibilities: Customs is responsible for;

- Providing information and support to new and developing businesses;
- Breaking down barriers to trade by supplying accurate advice and improving communication; and
- Equip FrontLine partners with additional skills in the detection of illegal activities by maintaining adequate security measures.

Advantages: FrontLine will;

- Facilitate the movement of legitimate goods;
- Improve communication between Customs and the business sector;
- Promote community development through international trade; and
- Detects prohibited goods and illegal activity

Thailand

Total number of showcases by Thai Customs Department: 5

1st showcase programme: Joint Customs Consultative Committee

The Customs Department has established a Joint Customs Consultative Committee (JCCC) which is a joint working group between the Thai Customs Department and private sector. The two main objectives of this working group are:

- to organize Customs-to-Business talks allowing the private sector to directly participate in Customs activities relating to the enactment of Customs-related laws and regulations on the basis of accuracy, transparency, and accountability;
- to reduce the obstacles/barriers to the entrepreneurs or complaints of private sector by reviewing the Customs procedures .

2nd showcase programme: Working Group

The Customs Department has also established a working group between the Thai Customs Department and automotive parties to consult and discuss about Customs valuation of automotive imports to ensure its transparency and compliance with the GATT or WTO Valuation Agreement, as well as to study and follow price movement of the automotive imports so as to increase fairness to the entrepreneurs and efficiency of tax and duty collection management.

3rd showcase programme: Joint Working Committee

The Customs Department has established a joint working committee between Bangkok International Airport Customs Bureau and T.A.I.A.E.O. composing of operation-level representatives from Customs Department and representatives from the four global air express companies which their business are over 80% of Thailand's domestic market share. This working group will provide guidance for the improvement and revision of regulations concerning Customs express clearance procedures in compliance with international standard to facilitate international trade.

4th showcase programme: Customs Alliance Club

The Customs Department has planned to establish Customs Alliance Club (CAC) around August 2004 to provide Customs information to the importer, exporter and SMEs, also to be a channel for express views, comments and suggestion in order to improve Customs Services. Furthermore, the CAC also provides Customs benefits not only tax privileges but also non-tax privileges. The CAC is under supervision of the Customs Alliance Club Committee (CACC) which consists of representatives from private sector and the representatives from Customs Department.

5th showcase programme: Transparency-Partnership Project of the Thai Customs Department

"Transparency" is one of key strategic issues that have received high attention from the Department of Thai Customs. It is considered as a stepping-stone on the path to provide a high degree of certainty and predictability in Customs services. Given this fact in mind, the Department of Thai Customs implemented the "Transparency-Partnership Project" in December B.E. 2547 with the key objectives to enhance efficiency of Customs clearance and practices and provide expedited services to Customs clients in a more transparent manner.

Transparency-Partnership Project was initiated under the cooperation between the business sector and Customs to improve efficiency of current Customs procedures and practices so as to provide Customs clients with more expedited and transparent services.

In the meantime, the key incentives provided for the business operators joining the Project are listed bellow:

- No need to pay any fee other than those required by laws with a receipt;
- A reduced amount of tax and duty guarantee placed with Customs;
- Complaints on misconducts and poor services are given top priority, with the Transparency Center acting as a monitoring body;
- Express Lanes are specially arranged to facilitate and process Customs formalities and cargo clearance at all import/export ports.

The entrepreneurs who want to join the Project have to apply to the Transparency Customs Center and sign a Memorandum of Understanding or MOU with the Thai Customs Department.

Since its creation in 2004 until now, there are a total of 481 entrepreneurs participating in the Project. They are divided into:

- 134 Gold Card entrepreneurs;
- 182 Licensed Customs Brokers; and
- 165 importers and exporters.

It is anticipated that the number of participating entrepreneurs will be increased to 1,000 entrepreneurs at the end of 2006.
