Governance Structure

- The PSU comprises the Board, and staff headed by the PSU Director.
- The Board, on behalf of APEC Senior Officials, provides strategic guidance to the PSU and approves our budget and work program.
- The Chair of the Board is the host economy's Senior Official, while the Vice-Chair is the representative of the next host economy.
- The Board consists of representatives from the current, immediate past and next host economy, and from each contributing economy. The PSU Director, APEC Secretariat Executive Director, and Chairs of the Committee on Trade and Investment (CTI), Economic Committee (EC) and Senior Finance Officials' Meeting (SFOM) attend the Board meetings in an ex-officio capacity.

Support to APEC

The PSU welcomes research proposals or requests for assistance from APEC members and fora, such as in:

- Undertaking research on various topics, synthesizing key points into short, digestible policy papers and presentations to support fora discussions.
- Assisting members and fora in designing robust, effective initiatives with measurable outcomes.
- Providing members and fora with access to more data and commentary about economic issues within APEC.

The PSU is happy to assist in the design of proposals and often holds discussions prior to the submission of a formal proposal for consideration and approval by the Board. We also initiate and carry out in-house projects that are closely aligned with APEC priorities.

The PSU complies with APEC publication guidelines and retains responsibility for research conclusions.

Collaboration

The PSU seeks to engage and complement the work of other international organizations, policy think tanks and research institutes. By pursuing opportunities for joint research and analysis, we endeavor to provide APEC members with wider resources and expand the body of APEC-related research and analysis.
